

Mending the Soul has been selected to be part of Christian counselors' continuing education through www.studycredit.com! Please read the letter from Mark Durkin at Grace Theological Seminary.

Hello Celestia,

Thank you for your fine recommendation of your book Mending the Soul: Understanding and Healing Abuse.

This book is exactly what our website is looking for. Not only is it published by Zondervan, a reputable publisher of practical Christian material, but also so far it has received high marks (twelve 5-star ratings out of 12) on Amazon.com. (After I read it, I could add my review to the Amazon website).

I also can't thank you and Steve enough for your ministry to the abused. As a marriage and family counselor for the past 25 years, I have heard too many stories of abuse from my clients. It is a great comfort to know there are devout Christian professionals like you and Steve who are laboring to bring comfort, healing, strength, and confidence to victims of abuse.

Your book is now next on my list to add to our home study program. Alphabetically, it seems appropriate to list it under our "Abuse" section, the first section at <http://www.studycredit.com/BookList.htm>.

Christian counselors can now receive Continuing Education credit for reading your book. In your state of Arizona, the Arizona Board of Behavioral Health Examiners allows StudyCredit.com to provide up to 30 hours of C.E. credits for these licensures: LBSW, LMSW, LCSW, LPC, LAC, LMFT, LAMFT, LSAT, LASAC, and LISAC (see R4-6-801 at <http://www.azbbhe.us/rule%20CEU.pdf>)

Thank you, Celestia, to you and Steve for your ministry to the abused. As our Scriptures say, "The Lord is near to the brokenhearted, and saves those who are crushed in spirit." (Psalm 34:18)

God bless you both,

Mark W. Durkin, MA, LPC
